"WHY?" ASK YOURSELF WHY?

Why allow yourself, your wife or your friends to sink into gradual decay and fill an early grave? Why suffer the torments of distinctive troubles and a disordered liver?
Why allow the mind and body to suffer the debility and physical weakness that result from weak and wasting kidneys and urinary troubles?
It is wrong for you to do so. Dr. Guyard's "Why?" is the answer. It is the best blood purifier in the world, for it removes the morbidity of the liver and spleen, and clears the kidneys at once and the same time.

greeting, "How do you do, my friend?" he replied, "General Butler said, 'Oh, pretty well.' 'Why?' said Colonel Ingersoll, 'in surprised tone.' 'I supposed you must be feeling very sick over Garfield's election.'
'I am not,' replied Butler, 'but I do feel badly enough.' 'You and Beecher did it, Colonel.'
'Well,' retorted the Colonel, 'how could you expect to win with the Lord and the devil both against you?'

The History of Knox County.

We have watched with interest and pride the progress of our history, and we are pleased to inform the public that the importance of the work has been duly appreciated by our people, and that good reports come from every township in the county of a liberal patronage. The citizens of our town have also given the work a hearty support. It will be a work which every patron will be proud to hand down to his children as the "Past and Present" of Knox county. Messrs. Graham & Co. are being assisted by our worthy citizen, J. W. White, who is determined that our history shall be complete in every department. Mr. Graham comes to us highly recommended by persons in high standing from counties where he has made similar publications, and we feel that our work will be all that is claimed for it. Maj. McKisson, the manager of the view department, informs us that they are about to commence making their sections of views to embellish the work. This is one of the important features of the work and we hope to see our people take such an interest in it, that our book will not be surpassed by any of our sister counties. We have plenty of fine subjects for engravings in every part of our county, both of public and private building, natural scenery, engravings of "Log Cabin" days, portraits of our pioneers who preserve a place in the memory of the present generation and all future ones. Those who take an interest in this department of the work will be furnished with a metallic plate from which the portraits and views are printed and from which they can have more printed at any printing office to present to their friends and relatives, which would be highly appreciated. The present generation will never be called upon to assist in publishing another history, and will not have another chance of having portraits of their fathers handed down to future generations. Let us take such an interest in this part of the work, that our history will be properly embellished and make such a work that every citizen will feel proud of. Citizens who have views that will be a credit to the work will be called upon shortly. A great many of our people have already spoken for engravings of their ancestors, and of their homes. An opportunity will now be given them by the agents of Messrs. Graham & Co., who make a specialty of this work. Any persons having portraits or views suitable for the history will confer a favor on the publishers, as well as secure a place, by sending to Mr.
John W. White, or calling upon him in person. The agents will endeavor to visit all and give all an opportunity.

CORRUPTING ELECTIONS.

How it is Beginning to Strike the Better Class of Republicans.
Col. Forney in the late number of the Progress puts John Welsh of Philadelphia, on the stand to take a look in the glass after the election. We quote: The sentiment of the better class of Republicans against the success of bribery and purchase of the suffrage is taking a new shape, as honest reflection awakens a just remorse, and therefore I am not surprised to find this paragraph in the Philadelphia North American, originally appearing in the Springfield Republican:

"DANGERS OF A CAMPAIGN WITH MON-EY.—We coddle voters too much. In place of public discussions of current issues, whereby men are educated to the conscientious discharge of political duties, drummers and hacks, and money are now used to move men to the support of parties and candidates. A shiftless and venal class of voters is created, and the result to the highest bidder, and corruption of suffrage on a broad scale progresses in Massachusetts. It is something that American citizenship is purer than that of the ballot of England, but the extent to which the blot on our electoral system is spreading, makes just cause for serious alarm. Great funds for election purposes do not look to the cause of money, it is Christians who give checks to the Republican party as they do to the American board, are assisting in debauching the ballot."

The organized crusade of capital against labor began with the Democratic victory of the Maine election in September, and to Hon. John Welsh the whole credit of the fight belongs. It was for the first time that the crusade, and the result upon the fortunes of General Hancock, that the Springfield Republican wrote the protest which the Philadelphia North American has insisted upon.

Below are the words of John Welsh by him signed, and sent broadcast over the land, and now in the calm light of reason, I reprint them as part of a most discreditable assault upon free suffrage and the purity of elections. If this movement does not look to the cause of money, it is a clear advance in that direction. When sovereign States are openly bought with money, on the advice of a great Christian leader, there is an end to all honest government, and the result is a mockery.

As if conscious of the effect of this most shameless example the pious John Welsh promises not to reveal the guilty secret of the men willing to bribe the American voter!

THE NORTH AMERICAN REVIEW.

The December number of the North American Review, has been received from the publishers, Messrs. D. Appleton & Co., New York. Its articles are all able, and most of them of a political character, written from the Republican stand-point. The following is the table of contents: The Future of the Republican Party, by George S. Boutwell; Discoveries at Olympia, by Prof. Earnest Curtis; Rational Sunday Observance, by Rev. James Freeman Clarke; Southern States and their Policy, by John Jay; Ruins of Central America—part 14, lidity of the Emancipation Act, by Aaron

A Word to Our Readers.

Readers of newspapers should not forget that without advertisements the cost of the papers they read would be more than double the present figures. This alone is a sufficient argument why all readers should patronize those who advertise, but it is strengthened by the fact that advertisers via with each other in competition for trade, which can not be said of those who do not, and the result is that best goods at the lowest prices are obtained from merchants who assist in making it possible for publishers to present a good readable paper cheap to the public. As a matter of justice to all concerned, we hope our readers will remember our advertisers when making purchases.

When the Emperor William was hunting a few years ago in the Harz Mountains he fired frequently at the deer, which appeared in large numbers wherever he went. In the evening the Chief Forester who had conducted the hunt showed him twenty-three of them dead, which he said the Emperor had shot.

"Are you quite certain about that?" asked His Majesty. "Yes, positive." "Well," said the Emperor, laughing, "that's very curious, for I fired only sixteen shots."
